ON A PERSONAL NOTE

Dr. Dudley's father was a physician, but it was another doctor who inspired her to be an internist. "I always wanted to practice medicine like Marcus Welby, M.D.," she confesses.

She was one of the first doctors to join HMF when it started. She says it's been a good fit because "I wanted to concentrate on practicing medicine, not running a business."

Outside the office, Dr. Dudley keeps busy tending her vegetable garden and making quilts. Her newest hobby is yoga.

She and her husband, an anesthesiologist, live in Pasadena. Their two children are in college.
